The Fifth International Symposium on the Poetics of Science Fiction at Tel-Aviv University
In/Out: Forms of Space in Science Fiction

18-19 March 2018

For the fifth time, the international symposium of the Poetics of Science Fiction took place at the University, organized by the students and faculty of the department of English and American Studies with the generous support of the School of Cultural Studies. The symposium was a standing success. For the first time, we had an internationally renowned keynote speaker: Prof. Susan Holbrook of Royal Holloway, University of London, who is both a world-class scholar of science fiction and an accomplished writer. The two-day symposium featured an array of international speakers from as far away as Athens, New Delhi, and the US, along with local scholars both young and established. The topics debated ranged widely across subjects, from the meaning of humanity to the
