The Fifth International Symposium on the Poetics of Science Fiction at Tel-Aviv University

In:Out. Forms of Space in Science Fiction

18-19 March 2018

For the fifth year, the international symposia on the poetics of science fiction took place at the university organized by the students and faculty of the department of English and American Studies with the generous support of the School of Cultural Studies. The Symposium was inaugurated by the amazing keynote speech of Prof. Susan Robinson of Royal Holloway University of London, who is both a world-class scholar of science fiction and an aspiring acting center. The four-day Symposium featured as many of international speakers from as far away as Australia, Korea, Belgium and the US, along with local scholars both young and well-established. The topics debated covered a wide area of subjects, from the meaning of humanity to the
