

Guest lecture by Professor Lawrence Rosenwald from Wellesley College.

The lecture will be one of the keynote addresses in the conference "Beyond Transfiction: Translators and (Their) Authors" organized by the program for Diploma Studies for Translation and Revision at Tel Aviv University.

Please see the program of the conference here: <http://humanities1.tau.ac.il/telavivtrans/index.php/academicprogram>.

Professor Rosenwald's lecture on "Relations between translators and authors: Confessions, reflections, and the case of Yiddish" is scheduled for May 7, at 14:30 in Gilman, room 496.

He will be introduced by Professor Hana Wirth-Nesher.
